PREFACE

History writing goes hand in hand with bibliography. Without proper bibliographical guidance, historical research would be indeed more difficult. The Institute has been conscious of the need for compilation of reliable bibliographies on Pakistan. Two volumes of A Select Bibliography of Periodical Literature on India and Pakistan, 1947-70, have already been published while the third one is due for publication. This work covers a wide range of items and should be useful to researchers. Publication of a bibliography of Doctoral Dissertations on Pakistan (1976) provides special information on research work carried out on various aspects of Pakistan in universities abroad. Two regional bibliographies, on Kashmir and Sind, are presently in the press.

The latest work undertaken in this series was the present comprehensive bibliography of Pakistan which covers publications primarily relating to the post-independence period (1947-80). Effort has been made to make this compilation as comprehensive as possible so as to provide researchers with an adequate working guide to literature already available in Pakistan. The work is based on different bibliographical sources and, besides English, lists books in Urdu, Punjabi, Sindhi and Pushto. It also draws on Government publications, documents, reports and statements.

The present compilation contains 8,385 entries upto the first half of 1980. Wherever the title of a book is not self-explanatory, it has been annotated.

A wide range of subjects have been classified under eighteen headings, which are further sub-divided into sections. Each subject lists general books and government publications separately.

Authors' names are given according to the library practice when a surname precedes the personal name, except in some cases like Khan or Chaudhri. The whole entry is listed in the following order:

*Author/Editor, title, place of publication, publisher, date and number of pages.

*Dissertation or Thesis, University, Year.

Under each heading, authors' names are alphabetically arranged. The Government publications are placed under letter G, and are further entered under the name of the Publishing Department and not the Ministry. Serial publications by the Government invariably state the frequency of publications, but it was not always possible to trace the exact date when the publication started or ceased.

The present compilation is the result of the coordinated effort of the research staff of the Institute. The basic material was first compiled by Fazle Payamber Naqvi, and was later supplemented and brought to date by the other members of the staff. Under each heading, the section on books has been compiled jointly by Dr. A. D. Muztar, Azra Waqar, Mirza Shafiq Hussain, and M. Qasim Soomro, while Government publications have been compiled by Zarina Salamat and Parveen Rozina.

Though a modest production of the Institute in its present initial edition, this bibliography is being issued with the hope that it will help to create an added interest in this field, and will also serve as a useful tool in the hands of those who are interested in research on Pakistan.
